HEAVY RAINS ARE IMPEDING ALLIED FORCES

Artillery and Patrol Actions Are Reported as Fifth Army Maps Assault on Vital Enemy Positions

OPPOSITION INCREASES

BY EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 12.—(P)—Northwest African air force bombers, pursuing their attacks on the Germans in the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean, struck a smashing blow yesterday at the Nazi airfield on Corfu, strategic Greek island dominating the entrance to the Adriatic. Allied headquarters announced today.

On the rain-bogged Italian battlefield, only artillery and patrol actions were reported as Fifth Army troops along the swollen Volturno river front prepared for an assault on powerful German positions.

U. S. Mitchells sweeping from Italian bases and escorted by Lightnings struck at Corfu, bombing the Gariza airfield, and the Lightnings scored two direct hits on a merchant vessel in Corfu harbor.

New raids on Calato airfields in Rhodes and Heralion airfield in Crete also were announced. These missions were undertaken by American Liberators that poured bombs among parked aircraft and buildings near the airfields.

Bomb-carrying Lightnings made their first raid on the Antimachia landing ground on the island of Cos in the Dodecanese. This airfield has twice changed hands in fighting there.

Heavy rains still impeded the Allied troops along the Volturno and across the mountains to Termoli on the Adriatic.

Artillery duels rumbled along both the Fifth and Eighth Army fronts, and Eighth Army patrols were aggressive, a dispatch from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters said.

These advance units encountered (Turn to Page Nine)

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONVENTION ENDS

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—(P)—Adoption of numerous resolutions dealing with social problems, post-war reconstruction and church policies concluded the 54th triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here yesterday.

Clerical and lay delegates called for repeal of the Chinese exclusion act restricting entry of Chinese Nationals into the United States. The house of deputies also set the date for the next triennial convention at San Francisco on the first Tuesday in October, 1945, unless the presiding bishop deems it advisable to advance the date to September.

Harrisburg, Oct. 12.—(P)—About 1,619 tons of hard coal remained underground in Pennsylvania for every man, woman and child in the state, the department of internal affairs reported today—a supply large enough to last an estimated 160 years.

A survey made by the department and the Pennsylvania State College put present unmined tonnage at 16,192,000,000 tons.

Late A.P. War Bulletins

New Delhi, Oct. 12.—(P)—Headquarters of the 10th U. S. Air Force announced today that the important Meza river bridge on the main line of the Mandalay-Myittha railroad in Japanese-occupied Burma had been seriously damaged during a raid by heavy American bombers on October 10.

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—The British government announced today that it must draft men to work in the coal mines on the same basis that they are called up for the armed forces.

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—A Berlin broadcast by the German International Information Bureau said today that Nazi forces along the Calore river line in Italy had been forced to retreat to new positions in the mountains near Cerreto.

Madrid, Oct. 12.—(P)—Press dispatches from Toulouse, France, said today that State Prosecutor Lespinasse, who has been active against members of the underground movement in the Toulouse area, was assassinated by an unknown person on a Toulouse street Sunday morning.

No News On Casualties Held Back War Department States

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—"I regret to inform you . . ."

These words begin the telegram which notifies a family that an American soldier is missing in action.

The scanty information in the telegram often is the only word available for weeks and months.

What the family frequently does not realize, said Col. George F. Herbert today, is that the wire also contains all the information available to the war department.

Herbert, as head of the casualty branch of the adjutant general's office, is the officer who receives the casualty reports from troop commanders, checks them—with the assistance of a staff of officers and civilians—as thoroughly as he can against the possibility of error, and finally prepares the telegram which is sent by Adjutant General James A. Ulio.

"We know the uncertainty and the anguish experienced by the families of men who are missing in action," said Col. Herbert. "We would like to give them more information. But the plain truth is that, nine times out of ten, the only source of additional information is the enemy, the government of the country with which we are at war, and there is simply (Turn to Page Two)

Weather Forecast Censorship Lifted

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Lifting of censorship restrictions on weather forecasts demonstrated for the second time in a week today how confident the high command has grown in the safety of continental United States from enemy air attack of any magnitude.

Byron Price, director of censorship, announced last night "improved defense and other war conditions" made it possible to relax the rules against publication and radio broadcast of weather forecasts. Effective last midnight, official forecasts are usable except for mention of wind direction and barometric pressure. Newspapers had been confined to publishing weather conditions within a 150-mile radius.

The volunteer civilian section of the nation's aircraft warning network was virtually eliminated last week, except as an emergency reserve. General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, said the enemy now is strategically capable of only small scale air attack and manpower needed dictated taking that calculated risk.

NAZI LINE IN WHITE RUSSIA IS MENACED

5,300 GERMAN DEAD

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Russian troops, firmly established on the left bank of the Sozh river opposite the strategic rail hub of Gomel, were threatening today to rip wide open a corridor to the west which would completely sever the German positions in White Russia from the hard-pressed Nazi armies in the Ukraine.

The Soviet juggernaut apparently was functioning smoothly on all sectors of the winding 1,200-mile front. A Soviet communique broadcast by the Moscow radio indicated the Russian war machine was fanning out from three main bridgeheads on the west bank of the Dnieper river in the Ukraine above and below the fortress-city of Kiev; was pounding its way nearer Vitebsk, northern anchor of the Nazi defense line in White Russia, and was menacing the German garrisons in the Crimea with imminent invasion from the north and the east.

The Germans left more than 5,300 dead on yesterday's battlefields, the Russian war bulletin said. Fifty-eight enemy planes were shot down by Red army aircraft, while scores of tanks and guns were destroyed or captured together with huge stockpiles of other war material.

(CBS in New York recorded a London broadcast which said that Soviet forces already had "penetrated the outer defenses of Kiev.") Moscow declared the Red army rescued 40,000 Russian civilians "whom the Germans were forcibly driving to slave labor in Germany." Soviet speakers were within 20 miles of Vitebsk last night, the bulletin added.

Far to the south, Black Sea fleet warplanes struck "a blow at an enemy port," possibly in the Crimea, and sank a 2,000-ton German transport and 11 barges and cutters, the communique said, adding that "many other ships standing in the port were seriously damaged."

Man Charged With Death of His Step-son

Waynesboro, Oct. 12.—(P)—State police charged Richard E. Lzer, 28, of near Waynesboro, with voluntary manslaughter after a Franklin county coroner's jury found yesterday he had inflicted fatal blows on his step-son, Charles Eugene Myers, 5.

The jury's verdict said "we believe that Charles Eugene Myers came to his death Oct. 6 in the Waynesboro hospital as the result of injuries to the brain caused by blows to his head administered by Richard Lzer."

District Attorney J. Glenn Benedict said Lzer, a farmer and inspector at a Hagerstown, Md., aircraft plant, told officials of striking the boy with his open hand as punishment "for lying." The boy died two days later.

Lzer did not testify at the inquest. Advice of counsel and was later returned to the county jail at Chambersburg. No bond has been fixed.

BLAIR COUNTY FARMER IS KILLED BY BULL

Williamsburg, Oct. 12.—(P)—Joseph Glenn Claar, 61, farmer living on the outskirts of this Blair county community, died yesterday a few hours after being severely gored by a large bull on his farm.

A neighbor saw the bull tossing something in the roadway and called Mrs. Claar, who drove away the animal with a big blacksnake whip. She later sold the bull to a meat dealer for slaughter.

Neighbors said Claar had driven off the bull with a pitchfork earlier in the day after it ran over his daughter, Louise.

Destruction Of Yugoslavia Nazi Threat

Reich Says Patriots Must Lay Down Arms or Face Extinction

HOSTAGES TO BE SHOT

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Germany has threatened to destroy every city, town and village in Yugoslavia and to shoot an unspecified number of hostages in an effort to force patriots and guerrillas now waging war against the Reich to lay down arms, a communique of the Yugoslav Liberation Army, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav Radio, declared today.

The communique said that German planes were dropping leaflets over Yugoslav cities "in which they threaten the towns with complete destruction and the shooting of hostages." It was issued after the capture of the important island of Cherso, commanding the entrance to the Gulf of Trieste, and added:

"The German luftwaffe is continuing its ruthless attacks on unprotected towns and villages. 'The town of Novo-Meste has been completely destroyed. Not a living soul remains.' The German threat of extermination came as the patriots claimed a series of victories which included the capture of Slankamen, a town on the Danube near the city of Novisad and approximately 50 miles northwest of Belgrade.

CLARION COUNTY MAN CRUSHED UNDER TRUCK

Clarion, Oct. 12.—(P)—Theodore Altmeire, 66, a barber of Monroe, was knocked down and crushed to death yesterday a few seconds after he answered a truck driver's questions about directions and walked around the machine.

Coroner H. M. Wellman, in issuing a certificate of accidental death, said the driver was delivering groceries to a store next door to Altmeire's shop in Monroe, and did not know the barber was behind his truck when he backed it.

Squire Is Almost Shooting Victim

Shippensburg, Oct. 12.—(P)—Justice of the Peace John Hach reported he almost became entangled personally into a case yesterday when he went to the home of Mrs. Margaret Bechner, a widow, to get her signature to information charging a roomer, Jacob Ora Brown, 63, with arson.

Hach had failed to get the signature at the time the information was made out earlier, charging Brown with setting fire to a mattress in the Bechner home.

The justice said when he arrived near the Bechner home, he found her and a neighbor in the road and Brown nearby with a shotgun. The weapon was discharged and the pumpkin balls shattered the windshield of Hach's car, crashing through the seat on his right. He left the machine quickly.

Shrinking of Nips' New Guinea Holdings Credited to Fine Work of U. S. Air Forces

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

BY BOB EUNSON
With Australians in the Ramu Valley, New Guinea, Oct. 10—(delayed)—(P)—The Australian Seventh Division has thrown the calendar away and is far ahead of schedule as it moves up the Ramu Valley within 45 miles of the Japanese base at Madang.

This shrinking of the Nips' New Guinea holdings since the fall of Salamaua Sept. 12 has occurred so rapidly—Lae was captured Sept. 16, Finschhafen Oct. 2—that no one knew from day to day where the Australians would strike next. The swift conquest of the Markham valley, leading northwest from Lae, out of which the Aussies drove into the Ramu, was an example of coordination of Australian infantry, American troop carrier planes and American airborne engineers.

(This drive toward Madang started Sept. 18 with the seizure by airborne Australian forces of Kalapit in the Markham valley, 60 miles from Lae. From there, the drive over the divide into Ramu has proceeded for approximately 30 miles.)

The swift strokes at Kalapit and beyond it at Gusap and Dumpu were made possible by the troop carrier command and the engineers. Troop carrying Douglas transports took the bulk of the infantry on each advance, then brought up engineers to build or improve airstrips.

The big transports then used these steps for the landing of supplies (Turn to Page Two)

Consumption Of Milk May Be Limited

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Confronted with a new and discouraging report on milk production, the War Food Administration (WFA) today speeded up plans to limit civilian consumption in all metropolitan areas.

The federal crop reporting board's October survey estimated last month's milk output dropped 3 per cent below the corresponding month a year ago, despite an increase in the number of milk cows.

Accordingly, the WFA went ahead with arrangements to extend delivery and sales quotas which are designed to hold consumption of fluid milk itself to the June level, and of milk products to about 75 per cent of the June mark. These quotas already have been put into effect in about 90 areas.

The crop board said milk production per cow on Oct. 1 in herds kept by 20,000 of its correspondents throughout the country was the lowest for that season since 1939. Labor and feed shortages were given as major reasons.

Double Success Recorded In Co. By Salvage Committee

A double success was recorded last week by the Warren County Salvage Committee, according to an announcement made this morning by W. T. Corbett, chairman of the committee.

In the collection of tin cans, the goal of one carload or 20 tons was reached. The cans were very well processed and all parts of the county contributed a full share. Excellent cooperation was received from the state highway department which furnished 8 trucks, the Valentine Disposal Company which furnished 7 trucks, the State Hospital and Moll Hide Company, each of which furnished one truck. The boys from the Y. M. C. A. processed a truck load of cans in very short order and did a fine job.

In the final roundup of silk hosiery, the county collected 683 pounds, which have been shipped to their destination. This is the last shipment as the hosiery collection has now officially ended. Since the hosiery collection began, the county has shipped approximately 77,380 pairs of hose. Mr. Corbett pointed out that this is quite a remarkable record, averaging nearly five pairs for each woman in the county, while the state as a whole collected an average of only one-half pair per woman. In other words, Warren county collected nearly ten times as much as the average for the entire state.

WESTERN MOTORISTS GET LESS GASOLINE

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Motorists of the far west starting today get three gallons of gasoline instead of four for their A, B and C ration coupons.

The Office of Price Administration (OPA), putting the curtailment into effect last midnight, said it was dictated by "tremendously increased demands for military needs."

Mr. Corbett extended his thanks to the local store for its consistent effort in this direction.

Total salvage shipments for the month of September are as follows: 414.5 gross tons of cast and steel scrap; 114.3 net tons of paper; 34,450 pounds of rags; 11,456 pounds of copper and brass; 2,206 pounds of waste fats, down 817 pounds; and 683 pounds of hose.

GREEN STAMPS TO BE USED NOVEMBER FIRST

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—The green stamps of the new war ration book four will be used to buy canned fruits and vegetables beginning Nov. 1.

The Office of Price Administration (OPA) announced today that book four will be distributed in a nationwide schoolhouse registration between Oct. 18 and 30. Time and place will be announced locally.

Lisbon Accedes To Plea for Facilities To Assist the Allies

LISBON
Report Comes From Bern That Vessels of the United Nations Have Been Patrolling Waters Off the Islands Recently

EFFECT OF ACTION IS SUBJECT OF SPECULATION

By E. C. DANIEL

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Tiny Portugal, Britain's oldest ally, has granted the British anti-submarine bases in the Azores islands—the crossroads of the Atlantic—Prime Minister Churchill announced today, but will remain neutral in the war.

Churchill, announcing this step vastly strengthening Allied ability to combat resurgent Nazi U-boat warfare, told the house of commons that President Roosevelt had been kept fully informed of the negotiations.

The Azores lie 1,000 miles west of Lisbon on the airways and sea lanes from Portugal to the United States.

Amid numerous rumors that the Portuguese, who now are engaged in the biggest military maneuvers of the war, might declare hostilities against Japan, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed in the house of commons that Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's government had acceded to a British request for facilities to aid the Allies in their fight against the submarine menace.

While negotiations for opening the Azores ports to Allied warships have been kept completely secret, a report came from Bern early today that Allied vessels were patrolling off the Azores, and it was rumored that Portuguese bases would be made available for the duration.

Tiny Portugal is Britain's oldest ally. Churchill told commons that all British forces would be withdrawn from the Azores at the end of hostilities. The Portuguese themselves have constantly been reinforcing the Azores garrison to the extent of their limited facilities since the beginning of the war.

The Azores, nearly 2,500 miles east of New York, consist of nine islands the most important of which is Fayal. The chief city, Horta, is a transoceanic communications center and a stopping point for Panamerican Clippers. The islands, with a total population of about 255,000, are an integral part of the Portuguese republic and not a colony.

The immediate effect of Portugal's action was the subject of hot speculation in London. The first and most important result for the Allies will be to give them one more valuable base from which to combat the Nazi submarine warfare which abated this summer but which is expected to be resumed in full scale to beat off the coming Allied invasion of the continent.

The Azores will afford added protection for one of the most vital sea lanes from the United States to the future fighting on the continent.

Lying at a crossroads of Atlantic shipping 1,000 miles from Newfoundland and 1,400 miles from Britain, the Azores can be used to complete the air umbrella (Turn to Page Two)

Plan Trial Of Farmland In Triple Murder

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—The case of William Albert Morell, 20-year-old farmhand who has pleaded guilty to the murder of three persons on a farm near here, will come before the Mercer county December grand jury, District Attorney Edwin C. Moon said today.

Morell was arrested in Claridon township, O., last Friday, the day after the slayings of Mrs. Everett Wilson, 48, wife of his employer; her mother, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 78, and another farmhand, Robert McKay, 70.

The youth entered the guilty plea at his arraignment before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain yesterday and was held for the grand jury.

If indicted, Moon said, Morell will be arraigned in court for another formal plea. If he again pleads guilty he will be given a court hearing to determine the degree of guilt, Moon explained. Moon said he was detaining for "further investigation" Janice Graham, 20, who was with Morell when he was captured.

Secretary of Navy Says Submarine Warfare Will Be Serious Until the End of the War

COMPLIMENTS BRAZIL

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Back at his desk after an extended tour of European battlefronts, Secretary of the Navy Knox asserts today that renewed activity of German submarines in the north Atlantic can be considered "very serious."

Questioned at his press conference about reappearance of the U-boats after the late summer lull, as evidenced by a recent attack on an Allied convoy in which several ships were sunk, Knox stated:

"It is very serious. Let's not make a mistake about it. Submarine warfare will be serious to the end of the war."

On the other hand, Knox reported he had observed, on an inspection of the Atlantic coast all the way from Recife, Brazil, north, a "competent defense organization," and particularly praised Brazil's contribution to the fight against the submarine.

He referred to Brazilian airbases (Turn to Page Two)

Foremen Have Busy Session At Y. M. C. A.

In their initial session of the season, the Foremen's Club of Warren held a supper meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night, with fifty-two members in attendance, and Ray J. Ledebur, president, presiding.

Because of an unusual amount of business requiring the members' attention, no formal program had been prepared. Following a fine dinner, President Ledebur led in the discussion of program for the coming months, getting the members' ideas regarding the kind of activities they would like to have. A service project was submitted as it had been recommended by the governors, and after considerable discussion it was decided to refer it back to the governors for action after these officials had made a survey of their members regarding the matter.

A contribution to the War Fund campaign was voted, the amount to be determined by the governors. For the November meeting, there will be a talk, illustrated by motion pictures. This program has been arranged for by William William Gaughn, with Bill Gaughn leading and Lloyd Van Tassel at the piano, the meeting was closed with a bit of group singing, after which some of the men accepted the Y's invitation to play games, such as billiards and ping-pong.

Treasurer Arnold Fletcher gave his report, calling attention to the dues which remains unpaid. Before the close of the evening most of those were paid.

ly no way to bring pressure to bear on an enemy government." His summary of the situation was prompted by published accounts of a meeting of Kansas City parents whose sons are missing in action. The group of 40 decided to send to their congressmen, the army, the navy, the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., names of 127 Kansas City boys in uniform, hoping for some additional word.

The War Department has discontinued giving the exact geographical location where a man disappears. This is to protect those who escape capture. Those captured or killed in enemy territory without the knowledge of their fellow Americans can only be listed as "missing" until some definite report on their status is received from the enemy, said Herbert.

In the case of Germany—and formerly of Italy—these reports usually are forwarded through the International Red Cross in most cases within a few weeks, but occasionally taking as long as four months. The Japanese, on the other hand, make little effort to supply such information. A year and a half since the fall of the Philippines, the army still has not received reports on all the men on Bataan and Corregidor.

At least 1,000,000 more women will be needed in munitions industries before January, 1944, the WMC says.

BILL IS BACK...

Bill quit his oil job six weeks ago. Went into one of the big war plants outside the oil region. 'Gettin' more dough,' he said.

Today Bill is back on his oil job again.

"Sure, I made more money," he said, "but what did it get me? Cost me the difference to live and the livin' wasn't half as good as it is here. Wasn't sure how long the job would last, either. I said to myself, 'Hey, fella, nothing's more important to winning the war than Pennsylvania Oil, an' there's no better place to work than the place you came from.'"

Bill's back... and glad he is.

Oil workers in the Pennsylvania region, whether they're producing or refining, are a vital part in Uncle Sam's huge war effort. No war material is more important than 100% Pure Pennsylvania Oil. Don't let anybody tell you different.

The World and Warren County

This is one of a series of articles describing the work of the various welfare agencies of Warren County. It is written in connection with the Warren County United War Fund campaign for $88,700. $49,000 of this total (the largest quota in any drive in a quarter of a century) remains in Warren County.

NATIONAL WAR FUND

THREE FRONTS—ONE CAUSE

GIRL SCOUTS

Among the very worth-while agencies to which you will be giving your support when you make your contributions to the Warren County United War Fund is one which is now serving 492 girls throughout Warren county—the Girl Scouts.

The Warren County Girl Scouts Council is the only county-wide agency devoted to service to girls, and nearly every community has an active group of Girl Scouts. The county council is now engaged in a campaign to extend the services to include every possible girl in Warren county, and is making rapid strides in this direction.

At the present time, the Council is serving 492 girls and has 175 adult members, council members and troop committee members, which brings the total membership figure to 667. Except for one executive secretary and one part-time office secretary, adult service is entirely voluntary.

It is gratifying to know a few of the worth-while activities in which our county Girl Scouts have participated through the Girl Scout Service Bureau, and the many agencies which they have served.

For the American Red Cross, Girl Scouts have made surgical dressings and many sewed and knitted articles. They stamped over 10,000 envelopes mailed by the Crippled Children's Committee and Tuberculosis Society. Finished garments were donated to the Needlework Guild. The Girl Scouts served luncheon for Tag Day workers during the Infantile Paralysis Foundation campaign. They collected waste paper and fats for the Salvage drives and manufactured decorated boxes for hosiery collections. In a Range Aide Program, Girl Scout campers cleared grass and weeds from more than a thousand trees in a new plantation. For the Office of Civilian Defense, they are doing clerical work, acting as assistants to Block Leaders, and, in one community, acting as air raid messengers.

Among their public-spirited deeds were the picking of apples at the Girl Scout camp and donating them to the Warren Relief Association and the Warren General Hospital and the folding of paper bags for the Hospital and Visiting Nursing Association. In addition, they made "tag bags" for the National Forestry Department in a fire prevention campaign.

These are but a few of the many fine services rendered our community and county by the Girl Scouts and do not include the hundreds of other acts which were participated in by single troops or individual Scouts.

The training received by the girls is fully as valuable in building a great nation as is that given the young men and boys, for in their troop meetings they, too, are taught the cardinal principals of Americanism and service to country and to their fellow citizens.

The Girl Scout program is typical of the agencies which we most need if we are to have a friendlier understanding between our own people, as well as between nations, when the war is over.

Your prompt and generous contribution to the Warren County United War Fund will do much to bolster our town and county where it is most needed in the days to come—in its Youth.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR DISCOVERY

(From November Cosmopolitan Magazine)

One fine October, With flags unfurled, Columbus discovered Our American world. We returned the compliment. Late but prettily, OGDEN NASH.

HOW DO YOU KEEP YOUR CHILDREN SO WELL?

Have you ever noticed how children in some families keep so well? While in others, it's always something. If it isn't the sniffles, it's ear ache. Or croup. Or any one of a hundred different ailments. Think of the expense of sick children. Doctor bills. Medicine. Your time. And the way you worry yourself sick.

Did you ever stop to think of the connection between health and the food you eat? That the children whose parents carefully feed them those things which will build the body, repair tissues, strengthen walls of the blood vessels, prevent infection, and so on really aren't sick much? Did you know that many of the children in Warren schools who are found to be undernourished come from homes where there is money to buy the right kind of foods?

The Warren Medical Auxiliary has planned a program for their annual Public Health Day for Monday evening, October 18, at the High School auditorium at 8:30. Two short movies will give pictures of the best in nutrition: "Hidden Hunger" and "Foods and Nutrition". Miss Arlene M. Schnure, home economics advisor for Warren county schools will talk on "Foods for Your Family" with a question-and-answer period following.

This is a splendid thing for the wives of Warren county doctors to sponsor. They have gone to a great deal of trouble to make this meeting of immense value to mothers and fathers in working toward healthier families. Let's all go. There is no admission charge.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Fire hazards in the forests of this section today are great. Lack of rain the past few weeks has made the woods dry as tinder.

A carelessly thrown match, cigar, cigarette or the dumping from a pipe, can start a woods blaze that might be difficult to control.

The Forestry Department asks that persons visiting the woods not to make outdoor fires before December 7. This applies to those going into the woods as well as those living along forest lanes and highways.

The big thing now to keep in mind is to prevent forest fires.

Motorists are asked not to throw lighted cigarettes out car windows. These can be fanned into fire within a few moments and whole sections of wooded areas turned into flames.

Persons don't willingly do such things, but in a careless moment a still lighted cigarette can cause considerable damage.

Be sure your cigarette, cigar or pipe is completely out before tossing same out of machine.

Only by cooperation can a scourge of forest fires be prevented in this section now.

Those who tramp through the woods are requested to use extreme caution so as not to set fires.

The Forestry Department will appreciate your cooperation.

SHOE RATION CUT

Announcement of the reduction in shoe allowance, through lengthening of the ration period from four months to a tentative six, has drawn a chorus of boos from almost everybody, with parents of young children loudest in their condemnation.

No young child can get by for a year with two pairs of shoes. Parents will share by going without. But two parents can hardly keep even one 8-year-old in shoes with six coupons without going barefoot themselves—and what about those who have three, four, five or more youngsters to shoe?

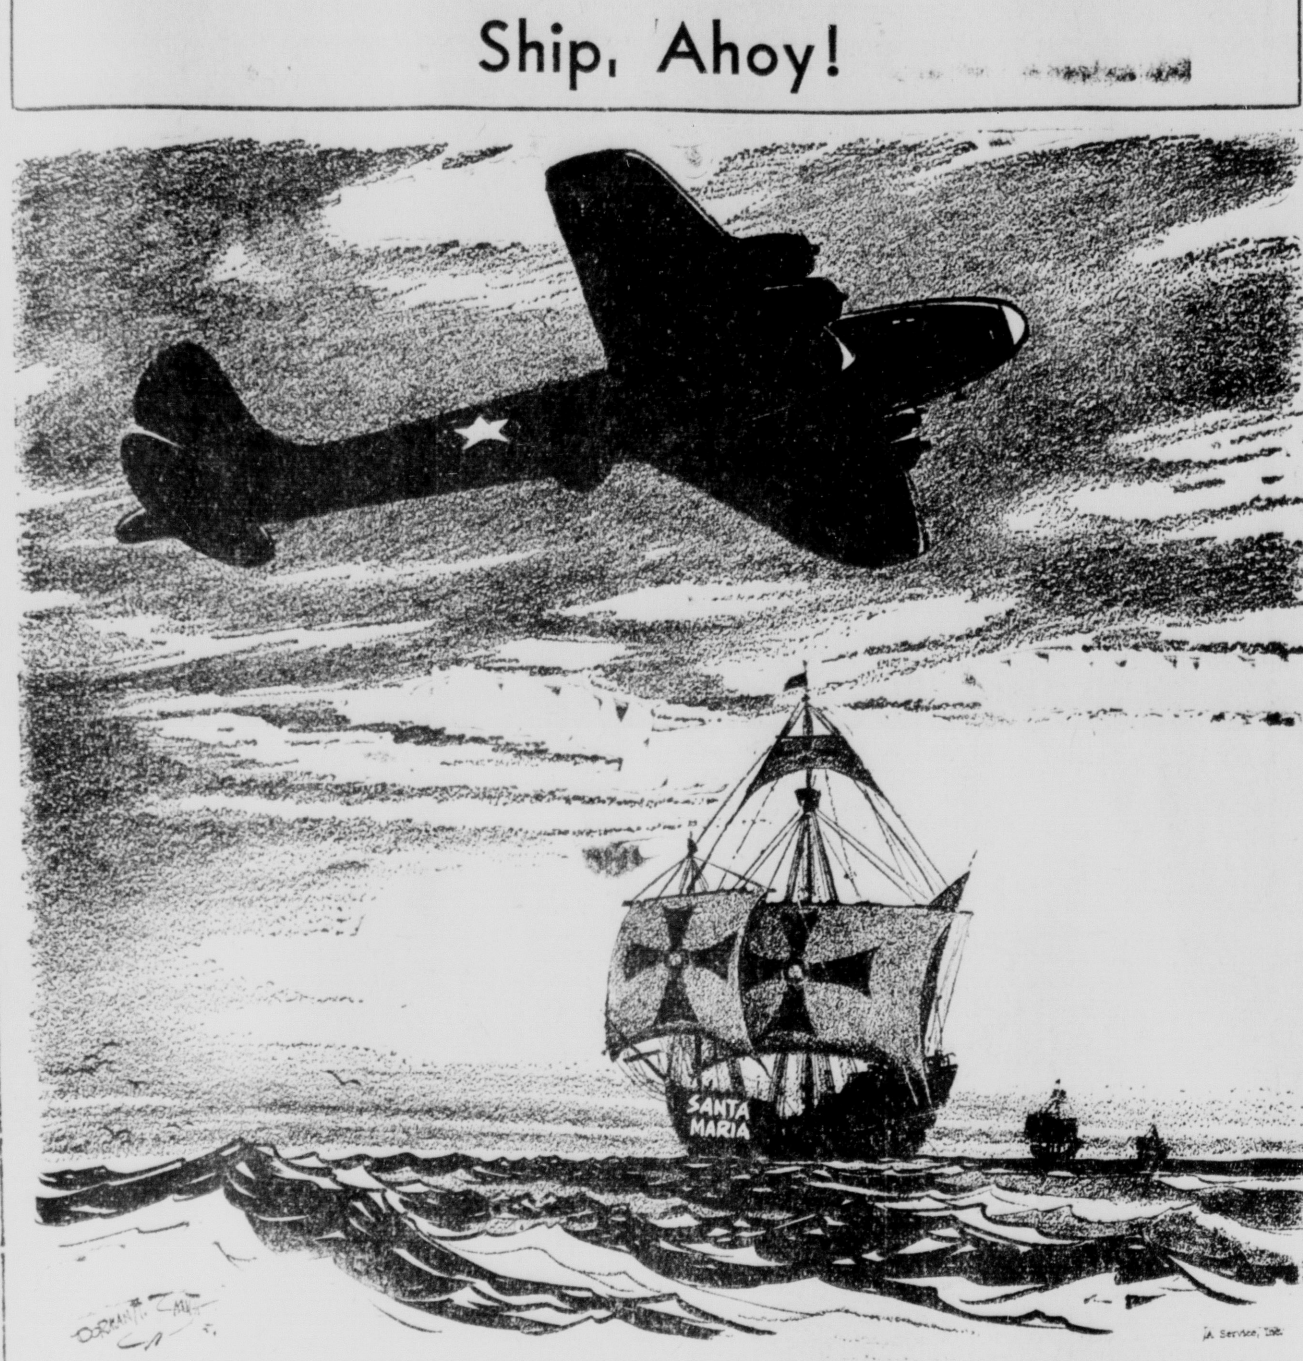

Fortunately OPA doesn't expect that. It has promised that, once the family's coupons are used, extras can be obtained for young children provided they are for utility wear and not for party use and show-off.

That Salvage report carried on page one of today's issue is one in which all residents of the county may take the deepest pride.

Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.—Psalm 79:9.

God helps those who help themselves.—Sidney.

Ship, Ahoy!

WASHINGTON In Wartime
By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—This is a footnote on a series we wrote some weeks ago about the post-war employment and care of veterans of this war, but it deals with a situation that now exists—the employment of disabled veterans of World War II.

It already has become apparent that insofar as the government can force it, disabled veterans are going to be 1-A on the nation's job list.

The Civil Service Commission is the nation's biggest employer. It isn't the only agency concerned about reemployment of disabled veterans. As a matter of fact, it is only concerned with the government employment of such veterans. As such, it already is laying down the blue print for private enterprise because the employment and rehabilitation divisions of Selective Service, Veterans Administration, Federal Security Agency, and War Relocation Authority are working toward their determination to do everything they can to see that private enterprise gives disabled veterans as good a break as does civil service.

THE findings of the commission undoubtedly will supply any employer with statistical data on what physically handicapped persons he might give jobs to.

In addition to that, the Ramspeck committee now is preparing to call any placement officer on the carpet and demand specific reason why he has failed to employ disabled veterans whose abilities are suited to the job to be filled.

Each of these are the plans for a vast educational and training program for disabled veterans. But all of it is a tendency to fit the physically handicapped person for a niche in the economic or governmental structure for which he is best suited.

One point that Ramspeck and the commission lay down on it is that none of this is charity. There isn't a deplorable disabled veteran who hasn't his place in gainful employment. The problem is to find it.

Two floors of the new Newell building have already been poured by the contractor erecting the structure. The forms have been moved to the third floor and it is now being poured.

The first authentic pictures of the Dempsey-Firpo fight will be shown at Liberty theater. The actual fight cannot be shown but the pictures are interesting nevertheless.

North East high school will play here Saturday and the team is expected to give the locals a hard tussle.

In 1933
Dr. William Skinner, Dr. Robert Israel, Mrs. J. A. Rockwell and Mrs. L. C. Jamieson have departed to take part in the State Wide Contract bridge tourney to be held at Pittsburgh.

Saturday next the Warren Dragons will journey to Bradford where they will meet the team of that place. The dragons promise to be a fast and hard played one as the two teams are said to be quite evenly matched.

Saturday a big crowd is expected to gather at the Elks when a fish fry will be held. There will be plenty of fish and it is expected there will be plenty of fun.

The Glade bridge was opened to traffic today after being closed for several weeks while it was being rebuilt. The motorists of the section were delighted when the barriers were taken down at noon today.

Dale Skinner, 28, of Sugar Grove, R. D. was brought to the hospital here today suffering from hurts erected when he was struck by a belt that broke on a sawmill that he was working on near Grand Valley.

What It Means

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
WASHINGTON—The father draft question is now pretty much of a dead bunny. General Marshall testified at hearings on the Wheeler bill (to delay drafting of fathers) that there already are 700,000 fathers in the Army. With the Army now at a strength of about 7,000,000 men, it takes no wizard to see that fathers make up 10 per cent of it—a figure surprisingly high to most of us and one which seems to indicate that it's too late to do much about keeping fathers at home.
What is important is not the immediate effect that drafting of fathers will have on family economic units, but the long-range effect on those units of exposing the heads of families to the perils of war.

Losses Estimated
The war will last only a few years at the longest. Some families may suffer inconvenience, even hardship, for that period, then will be back to normal. But how many families will lose their breadwinners forever? And of those heads of families who do return, how many will find their earning power reduced because of battle injuries or the effects of disease?
These questions cannot be answered with certainty, of course, but it may be possible to reach some fairly accurate conclusions along this line.

To date, some 9,522,000 men have entered the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps during this war. Of these, about 2,000 have been killed or fatally wounded, approximately one-fourth of 1 per cent. By the end of this year military and naval chiefs want some 10,450,000 men in service. If battle deaths continue at the same rate, about 10,750,000 will have to have been in service all together to make up our losses. It is not expected that the armed strength will increase greatly above that figure—not enough, at any rate, to upset these calculations seriously.

Now then, of those 10,475,000 men, how many will have been fathers and how many of those fathers will have been killed?
10 Per Cent Fathers
To obtain the number of fathers let's start with the 700,000 (10 per cent) that General Marshall says are now in the Army. Let's assume that the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines also have 10 per cent fathers. That would mean that by the end of the year 1,050,000 fathers will have entered the services. Assuming that fathers are spread evenly throughout the service, in and out of combat areas, one fourth of 1 per cent of them will have been killed. 2,500. This is at the rate of 100 a month since Pearl Harbor. If casualties continue at the same rate, 3,700 fathers will be killed if the war lasts another year and nearly 5,000 if it lasts two more years.
These deaths will not include fatal attacks of disease. During World War I, disease claimed 37,000 soldiers' lives—7,000 more than were killed in battle. Military doctors say that disease is far less of a menace this time, but no official figures have been released. Disease losses are disregarded in these computations, therefore, but some deaths from that cause must certainly be counted on.

Disabilities
Now as to disabilities. It is too early to come to any conclusions in this war on how many men will be totally or partially unable to make a living after they are mustered out, but the World War I record helps some.
Then, there were 4,800,000 men in the armed service. Of these, 635,000, or 13 per cent, have drawn disability compensation at some time and about 340,000, or 7.5 per cent, are drawing compensation now. To get compensation, a man must be disabled at least 10 per cent from injuries or illness suffered during the war or from illness presumed under law to have arisen from the rigors of his military service.
Compensation claims arising from illness probably will be considerably fewer this time than last time, but assume for the moment that the percentages will run the same. In that case, 136,500 (13 per cent) of the fathers serving in this war will receive compensation at some time within 25 years after peace, and 73,500 (7.5 per cent) of them will be receiving compensation at the end of that time. As a sheer guess, however, say that medical advances will cut these figures in half.
To sum up:
1. If the war continues another two years, 5,000 families will have lost their husbands and fathers through death on the battle field or at sea. Add to this an uncertain number whose breadwinners will have died of disease.
2. Some 70,000 families will lose 10 per cent or more of the earning power of the family head for some period of time.
3. Twenty-five years after peace is declared, about 35,000 families will still be out at least 10 per cent of his earning power.
(The U. S. Census Bureau reported there were 34,861,625 families in the country in 1940.)

WATER GOING TO LAKE ERIE FROM RIVER

North East, Oct. 12—Bull reservoir, serving water to industry and homes in North East, is one of the largest engineering achievements in northwestern Pennsylvania in recent years.
Bull reservoir may be considered the first step in the French Creek-Allegheny river flood control program, located as it is on a tributary of French creek, which is the outlet to Findley lake.
Its contribution to flood control lies in the fact that water which courses to the Allegheny is diverted northward by a tunnel a mile in length through the divide to serve North East and to continue into Lake Erie. The reservoir is a third larger than Findley Lake.

YOUNGVILLE CHURCH PLAN SPECIAL MEETINGS

Youngville, Oct. 12 — The Youngville U. B. church is planning on a series of special gospel meetings beginning Sunday, Oct. 17 and continuing for two weeks. Rev. Leroy Casler of Cuba, N. Y., will be the speaker. He is a young man of unusual ability as a preacher, pastor and evangelist. He holds the record of the second longest pastorate in Erie Conference and has been invited by a large number of fellow pastors to assist them in special meetings. These efforts have been eminently successful. The pastor and the local choir and musicians will lead the music for the series. Visiting musicians from neighboring churches will be invited to sing or play as they choose.
All local people as well as friends from near and far are invited.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Home economics and agricultural teachers of Warren and Forest counties held their regular meeting in the Youngville High School building, when plans for the year's activities in this area were presented by the instructors.
H. C. Fetterolf, state advisor of agriculture education, was a guest and spoke to the teachers on "Food Production War Training".
Ray Heim, vocational director of education in Delaware, was a second speaker, taking for his topic "the educational activities being promoted in his state."

Save and sell your salvage, or give to charitable or other organizations, by calling collectors at 3045.

With an "unavoidable stumbling block" of 29 rejections, Cambridge Springs blood bank missed its goal by a bare three points, taking 157 instead of 160, on Saturday. The fine yield of this fourth Cambridge Springs blood bank was added by 20 donors from the Carnation Milk plant and more than a dozen volunteers in addition to many repeaters.

Attu Filling Station

A row of gasoline drums is a filling station at Massacre Bay on Attu. A creek is a road. The army tractor "gassing up" is part of the mechanized might that has driven the Japs from the Aleutians and made these islands potential bases for bombers to Tokyo.
The picture is one explanation of gasoline rationing. If civilian uses had been put ahead of combat needs, that would be a Jap tractor—symbolizing a threat of air thrusts at U. S. cities.

It is hard to get along with less gasoline than you have been used to—but a far greater sacrifice is made by the fighting men who are buying freedom for you with their lives.
The least we can do is back them up with our every resource. For the oil industry, that has meant sending petroleum products to the action fronts in more than 80 times the volume of the first world war.
American oil production is superior to Axis production both in quality and quantity. Why? Largely because of the continuous improvements in oil refining under our competitive business system.
This system of American enterprise is one of the things that our enemies are seeking to destroy. It is one of the reasons why the petroleum industry is able to support our fighting men with a flood of fighting oil. Record petroleum production is an American answer to Axis dictatorships which deny every liberty on which democracy is built.

Much of Warren Players' Planning For Thursday-Friday Nights Still a Secret

Is Karen Andre guilty or not guilty of the murder of Bjorn Faulkner?

That question will be answered Thursday and Friday evenings at the Woman's Club auditorium. Judge William Heath will open court at 8:30 p. m. and District Attorney Flint and Defense Attorney Stevens will vie with each other, each determined to win the verdict.

But what about witnesses? There is a defendant, a judge, a district attorney, and a defense attorney but in order to try a case of this sort there must be some witnesses. This detail has been handled too. So that all relative evidence be submitted in this case, a doctor, a private detective, a policeman, a Swedish bookkeeper, a gangster, a handwriting expert, a gangster's moll, and many others will be called upon to testify. Now, what about a jury to listen to the testimony and render a verdict? This matter will be taken care of by the audience. Twelve members of the audience will be drawn by lot to serve as jurors.

In order that the trial be official in every respect, there must be certain court officials to attend to various duties. The presence of a clerk of the court, a bailiff, a court stenographer, and a prison matron add this factor to the court room scene.

With all these and many other surprises too, it behooves all interested parties to be present in the Woman's Club auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, when the Warren Players present "Night of January 16th."

Trinity church in Santa Barbara, Calif., was the scene of a beautiful wedding on September 19, when Miss Mary Burton Frink became the bride of Lt. Richard A. Evans, USN, in a four o'clock ceremony. The rites were read by Father Romeo Gould.

Wearing ivory satin, the bride was escorted by her father, Harold Frink. Her gown was embellished with a collar of heirloom rose point lace, which also edged the square neckline, extended over the sleeve caps and formed a panel down the bodice. The full skirt ended in a long train. Her finger-ring veil, edged with the same lace, fell from a rose point Juliet cap. Her only jewelry was white pearls and she carried white orchids.

The bridal attendants were gowned in crepe frocks made alike. Mrs. John Bridge Gordon was her sister's matron of honor and was in deep citron yellow with a small choker of chartreuse. She carried deep yellow begonias. The bridesmaids, gowned in a lighter shade of yellow and carrying pale yellow begonias, were Mrs. William M. Randol, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Bromfield and Mrs. Robert Raetz. They wore chartreuse chapeaux.

Frederic Boericke, of Berkeley, was best man and seating the guests were Stephen Gates, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Lt. Standish Backus, Jr.

A reception followed at the bride's home. The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frink, of Santa Barbara, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cabell Breckinridge Oliver, of Kentucky. She is a member of the Junior League of Santa Barbara and the Spinners. She is a graduate of Santa Barbara Girls' School.

Lt. Evans returned recently from active duty with the United States Navy in the South Pacific. Before his naval training, he was at Cornell University and was a junior partner in a New York insurance firm.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 19

BRAD chuckled and glanced at the clock. He was surprised to find it was only 10:15. "You're pretty sore, aren't you?" he asked. "I'm sorry, Jane. I'm not at liberty to tell you everything even now. I thought you would have confidence in me."

"You mean you thought I'd believe all the pack of lies you've been telling," Jane broke in. "Well, I did, Brad, for a long time. But that's over now."

"Listen, Jane," Brad was leaning toward her. "I saw Brad, yes. I admit that. But I recognized him from your description. When I came out of that store after calling the police, he left. I was on foot. I couldn't very well catch him."

He paused, half-expecting an outburst from Jane. When nothing happened, he went on:

"You can check the police about that call, if you like. The desk sergeant will verify it."

Tight fingers clutched at her heart. She wanted so badly to believe him—but how could she! He had attacked a Secret Service man, left him for dead, and used his credentials. No, Brad, she thought, I can't believe you now.

"Jane—"

"Don't, Brad. Please, don't make it any harder," Jane drew back in her corner of the coupe. "You can't explain this away."

He caught her hand. "You must believe me," he pleaded, but she jerked away.

"Believe you?" Her laugh was taunting, denying the hurt in her heart. "That's a good one! No, Brad, I'll lay my cards with Uncle Ed and the real Secret Service man."

"You'll... what?"

Jane thought he was going to shake her. His hand was heavy on her arm.

"Surprised, Brad? I thought you would be. You didn't know that we knew, did you?"

BRAD sat silent. What the hell? he asked himself. The girl's logic.

"Go on, Jane," he prodded, releasing his grip on her arm and leaning back in his seat. "Give with the inside dope."

Chapter 20

"THE pine forest—it is on fire!" Stark fear was registered in Jane's voice. Brad swung the car back onto the highway and stepped hard on the accelerator.

This was no time for talking. He had to find a telephone and get word to the police. Unless fire-fighters were thrown against that blaze immediately, it would be too late.

Brad rolled down his window. "Smell it?"

"Yes," Jane nodded in the darkness. The smoke, although faint, tickled her nostrils. Her eyes were beginning to smart. The fire must be nearer!

It was, of course, for they had been speeding toward Centralia. The car lurched to a stop in front of a farm house.

He hammered on the farm house door. Finally a light flickered inside and the farmer, eyes curious beneath beetling brows, appeared. The flashlight in his hand cast a circle of light over Brad.

"Let me use your phone?" Brad asked. "There's a forest fire. Better get your family up and ready for anything."

The farmer pointed to the telephone as he turned on the lights and bounded up the stairs.

"Get me police headquarters," Brad instructed the operator when she finally managed a sleepy answer. Then, when the desk sergeant barked in his ear: "Brad Forrester speaking. There's a bad fire. On you do? Good! Tell Thompson I'll be right in."

HE yelled "Thanks" up the stairway, although he knew his voice was lost in the excited scramble above, and ran outside.

Half-way to the car, he wondered why Jane had not fled. She had had her chance. What had stopped her? Knowing that she had not tried to escape made him feel better. He was making progress on the case, but it would be an empty victory without Jane.

"Did they know?" Jane was excited. "Is there anything we can do?"

"Yes, Jane, they already knew," he answered her first question. About the second, he wondered. Was it too late? "I don't know," he said as the small car leaped ahead.

Jane had rolled her window down. The wind, heavy now with acrid smoke, cut at her face, sweeping the fire toward them.

And toward Centralia. That knowledge brushed all thought of Brad Forrester and what he had done to one side. Nothing mattered now but stopping that fire. But could it be stopped?

The whole sky was pinkish, the glow changing to an angry red at the rim of the forest.

"Looks like a big one," Jane ventured.

"It is," Brad's voice was grim. "Spreading fast too. I should imagine, with this wind. Those pine burn like oil had been poured on them. Jane, it's the hardest kind of fire to fight."

Centralia was just ahead now. Jane could see trucks rolling out the new highway. Cars, too, were speeding ahead, loaded with grim-faced men.

Ten minutes later she was standing on the sidewalk in front of her apartment house, watching Brad's coupe disappear around the corner.

"Go in and stay in," he had ordered, thereby upsetting Jane's equilibrium again.

Would he, if he were an Axis agent, free her like that?

STILL rolling that question over in her mind, Jane trudged up the narrow stairs to her flat. Aunt Ella would say she was being foolish to...

Aunt Ella!

The Black country home was in the path of the fire! Jane dashed up the remaining stairs. She grabbed the telephone almost before the door closed behind her and dialed the number. Nothing happened. After trying again and again, she dialed the trouble clerk.

"I'm sorry," the young lady thrilled. "That line has been damaged by the fire."

A sick feeling hit Jane. They were trapped. No, Aunt Ella was out there alone. Ed might be at the office.

But the girl at the Chronicle switchboard said the editor was not in his office.

"Get me Mike Patrick," Jane said in desperation, and waited.

Red Cross Completing Plans For Courses In Swimming and Life Saving November First

Instruction in basic and functional swimming as well as courses in junior and senior life saving will start November first under the direction of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Classes will be taught by competent, certified Red Cross Safety directors and will be in charge of John E. Allen, Guinevere Knapp, Merlin Kelsey, Vera Neal and Hal Bush. These classes will be conducted three nights every week for a period of 20 weeks or longer. The time has been set for 8:30 and classes will each be an hour or more in duration.

On Monday night basic (or beginning) swimming will be taught. Wednesday night sessions will be devoted to functional swimming while Friday evenings will be set aside for life saving and water safety.

Red Cross officials wish especially to direct the attention of men and women to enter the services to the course in functional swimming. The Army and Navy lack the ability to make swimming a required part of military training. Reports show that many persons enter the service are shipped overseas and confronted with water hazards that increase loss of life. For this reason the Red Cross, wherever pools are available, have planned courses in functional swimming. The classes are open to men and women over 17 years of age; in sound physical condition.

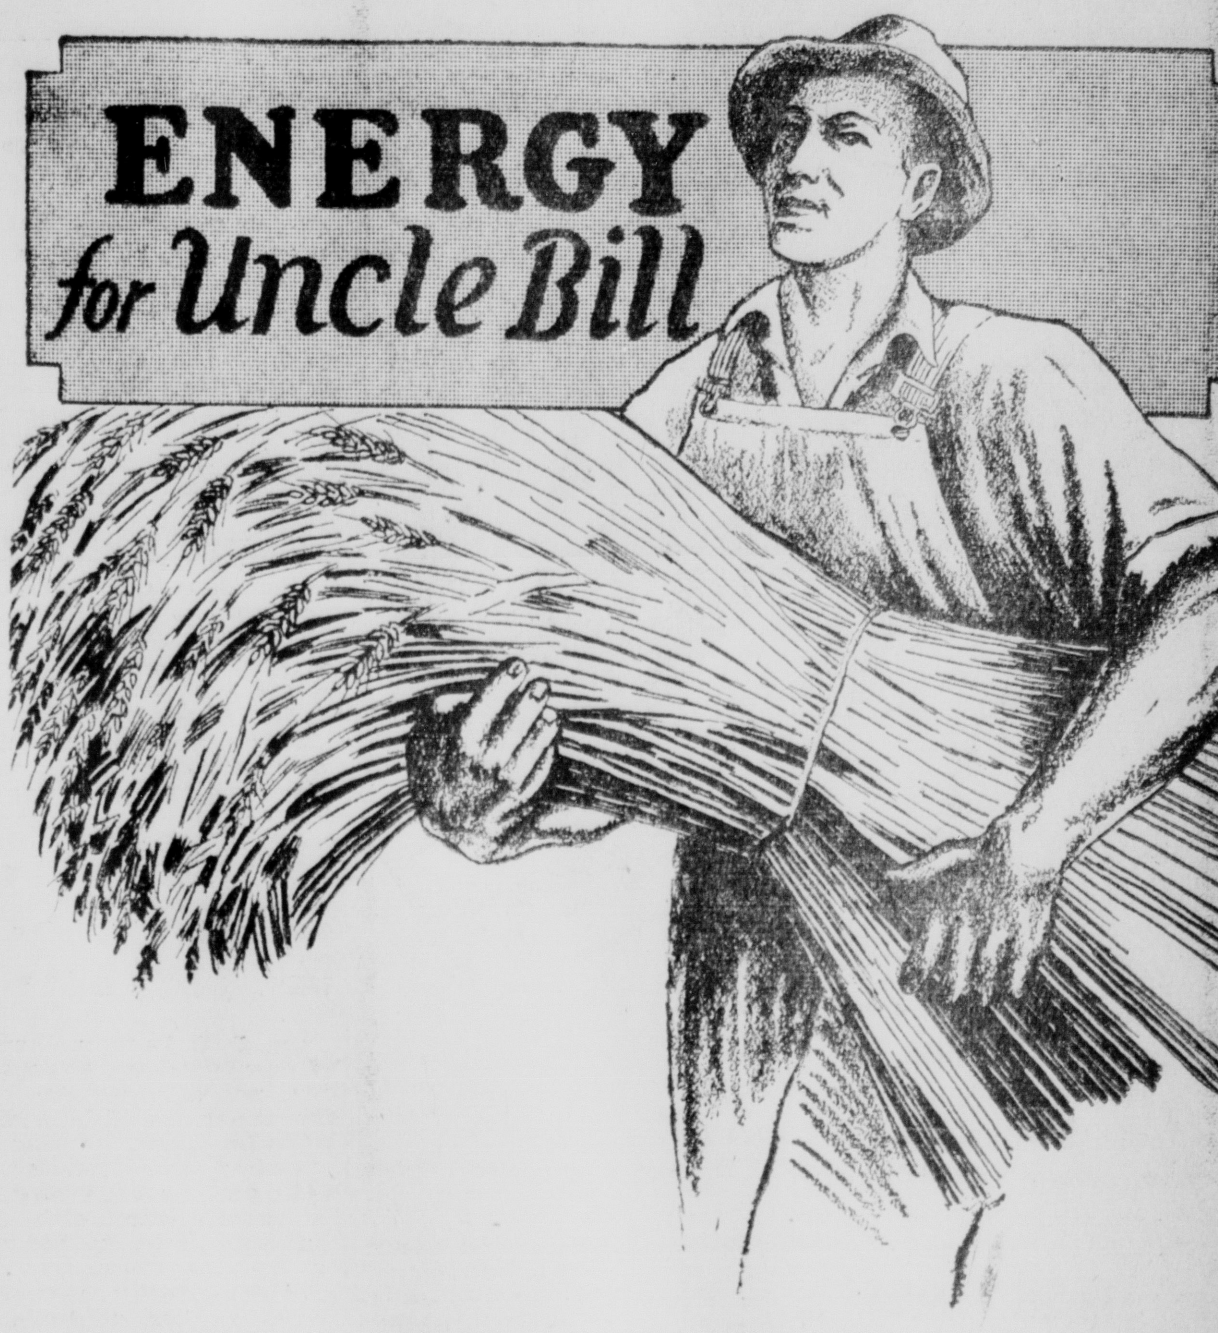

A member of the Red Cross instructors group said this morning: "Men and women are trained to meet warfare conditions on land. It is equally important that they learn such things as how far to swim from a sinking ship to avoid death from suction, or how to avoid concussions from bomb and depth charges. This course we are planning is designed to give persons the knowledge and ability to save their own lives under conditions where death is usually certain without it."

Features which will be stressed include, proper use of life jackets, how to swim through oil slick, swimming with equipment and weapons, these and other skills will be taught. The main object of the course is to develop confidence in the water under any adverse conditions.

The Red Cross will conduct these classes free. There will be a slight charge for the use of the pool, made by the Y. M. C. A., a nominal charge which applies to any non-member of this organization. Persons wishing to enroll may do so at Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market street, or with any of the instructors who will have charge of the classes. Enrollment should be turned in at once and additional information may be had at the office of the Red Cross.

Bigger and Better Rods To Solve the Delinquency of Kids

Back in the good old days when a bunch of kids upset one of those little houses in the rear of a lot the dads of the offenders led them to the woodshed and applied the rod. There was not so much talk of juvenile delinquency, but the accent was on the strap and the kids who got fresh dumping ripe tomatoes, etc., on neighboring porches were given treatments early and often as needed. Now in these days when the kids are both-

Card Myth Explodes as Yanks Regain Baseball Throne

Frankie Crosetti Is Handed Bouquet and Goat Horns Are Awarded Half Dozen Redbirds

BY SID FEDER

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—(P)—The scattered pieces of the busted St. Louis Cardinal bubble were being swept up for shipment to the nearest museum today as Frankie Crosetti was handed the bouquets and half a dozen Redbirds tried on sets of goat horns from the late lamented World Series.

One and all agreed no blockbuster ever went off any louder than the explosion of the Cardinal myth in this year's fall classic. When the New York Yankees wound it up on Bill Dickey's homer to win 4 games to 1 for the tenth world championship in their history, the Cards were as well beaten as the parlor rug in spring housecleaning—the same Cards, mind you, who had been built up as the runniest, fightingest, never-say-dyingest collector to come down the pike in quite a while.

If ever a club beat itself, this year's Cardinals fit the picture. Mostly, they missed Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter in the outfield. After the second game, last Wednesday, which Mort Cooper won with a magnificent competitive performance, they folded up like a straw hat that's been sat on. As running specialists they were practically stationary. They appeared to be only going through the motions of the fourth game on Sunday. And in yesterday's convincer they had Spud Chandler on the ropes in six of nine innings, yet failed to throw a big punch and were put on ice for keeps by a 2-0 score on ancient Dickey's two-run sixth inning homer, which gave him a record of having been on eight series winning clubs since 1928.

And while the Cards were collapsing, the Yankees reminded the folks that when you're talking about teams that don't beat themselves, the bombers are better than green hands. The result was while the not-so-swifties were making errors that cost them two games, and almost ruined a third, the Yanks got to the paying teller's window for the seventh time in eight series tries since 1932.

Dickey was right up there in the voting for the series hero's spot, because in addition to catching live tough games, he got four of his five hits with men on bases and three of the four brought ducks home off the pond. So was Joe Gordon up there for his first game homer and his all-around second base magic; and Rookie Bill Johnson, whose bat was the loudest of them all, and Spud Chandler, who chalked up two pitching victories.

But the majority of the fans, while well divided on which Card was the No. 1 goat, pointed to the old guy at short, Frank Crosetti of the San Francisco Crosetti as the top hero. He's 23 and before the series one fellow said he was so sage, up they had to tie him together with strips of tape and little pieces of wire.

Going into the series, the smart boys said shortstop was the weak link. Well, chumps, it was weak like Joe Louis. Frankie was one of the key men in the big five-run inning that won the third game, the batter the Cards had to walk with one away and runners on first and third so they'd have a play at any base.

His stop back of second on Walker Cooper's hit in the eighth inning of the fourth game, and the way he held Stan Musial at second on the play, was the big break of the tilt—the spot Manager McCarthy said was the turning point of the game. And yesterday he came up with three chances he had absolutely no right to get to haul Chandler out of the stew. He hit four of the five games, scored in three, and was a defensive brick wall.

He told a couple of pals before the series that he expected this was going to be his last fall classic. Well, he bowed out with the bells ringing.

Generally, the series was a dull affair. It set a new attendance record for a five-game fiasco by drawing 277,312 through the turnstiles, including the all-time one-game high of 69,990 who saw last Thursday's scramble in New York. And it paid off the players on a record pool of $48,005.74, from which each Yankee received $6,123.20 and each Cardinal $4,321.99. But for the customary Series thrills and chills, it was strictly in wait time—no jumping jive.

"Key Play" of Series' Fourth Game

Here's the action that Yankee Manager McCarthy later said was the key play of the fourth World Series game, in Sportsman's Park, St. Louis. Cardinal Right Fielder Musial was on first, a potential tying run. Walker Cooper slashed a sharp grounder back of second base, which if it had gone through would have enabled Musial to get to third, possibly home. But Yankee Shortstop Crosetti made a fine stop, anchoring Musial on second. The photo shows Musial on second base and Crosetti on the ground. Between them is Second Baseman Gordon, running over to retrieve the ball, while Umpire Reardon watches. Cardinal threat fizzled out and Yanks won, 2-1.

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH—
BOB JOHNSON

After the Warren-Jamestown game last Friday night we innocently told a friend of ours from the hilltop that Warren should have won the game—

"WHAT?" said he—and from there, the floor was all his, as we tried to get in a word—Jamestown was down in Warren territory enough times to score at least three touchdowns—he went on—

That's what a lot of them thought too—Sure, Jamestown was deep in local territory enough times to score three times—But they didn't—and the main reason they didn't was because the Drag-line was reminiscent of the Fordham seven blocks of granite any time they threatened—

That isn't luck or anything remotely concerned with luck when a grid outfit can hold a piledriving attack that came inside the Warren 20 at least five times—and always looked like real scores—

We feel the Red and Green was plenty lucky to score the touchdowns they did because it was only a matter of seconds before the halves when they crossed the goal line—and after that the game was all Warren's—That ball was just snapped when the whistle blew and they hadn't completed the pass in that final second—It might have been different.

This past month of dry weather should make all travelers into the county's woodlands extremely careful of their cigar butts, cigarette stubs and matches—But no matter what you tell a lot of the hunters or motorists, out for a day's ride to look at the beauty of the surrounding country—There are still fires and plenty of them—

Probably a lot of the causes lie in the inability of most people to realize that their matches, etc., can start fires just as quickly as that guy nobody ever hears about—who gets credit for most conflagrations—

So many times in driving along the county's roads, unthinking individuals throw their cigarette butts and pipe ashes out the window without second thought—You can see it any day you want—Of course they're miles away when the fire has taken its toll—and they never hear about it—Most sportsmen, hikers and woodsworkers have been schooled to watch out for this, but still the unthinking driver goes on with his smoking-as-usual—PUT THAT STUB OUT INSIDE THE CAR AND SAVE THE FORESTS—

Many streams in the immediate vicinity have nearly dried up and chances for a great trout season next year—due to the pleasure driving this year—are dwindling—What was a steady flow of water in many of the smaller streams now is just a puddle here and there—

No doubt the trout could still live in some of the puddles for not-too-long a stretch—But it's a sure thing that while the water is so low the fish predators are taking their toll—Mink, otters and the rest have had a great year—Hardly any trappers are left to keep these animals down and this year there will be more than ever of them—

But now, in Durham, Conn., the long awaited word came and Farnham, a World War veteran and father of five children is reunited with his mother. Last week Farnham learned from a cousin that his mother was alive but in poor health. So over the weekend he traveled for the Connecticut town. His mother was separated from his family in 1910 and not until a letter was sent by her to a nephew did her son learn her whereabouts. Her husband Farnham's father died in 1916.

Pennsylvania State College, through its extension division of the school of mineral industries, is again offering locally its course in petroleum and natural gas engineering. This course has been validated by the American Petroleum Institute committee on petroleum training and is recommended for use particularly in the Pennsylvania oil fields.

The course consists of a history of the petroleum industry, the present industry and its products, together with the studies of mathematics, physics and chemistry. Such a comprehensive course gives the student a firm foundation upon which to base further studies in petroleum refining engineering. Registration for the course will be held Thursday evening at the high school, starting at seven o'clock. The instructor will be Charles W. Cable, of the United Refining Company.

Although the course is intended primarily for workers in the petroleum and natural gas industry, any person interested may take it and is urged to register. The motto for this study is "Oil is ammunition. Use it wisely".

HEAVY RAINS ARE IMPEDING ALLIED FORCES

Artillery and Patrol Actions Are Reported as Fifth Army Maps Assault on Vital Enemy Positions

OPPOSITION INCREASES

BY EDWARD KENNEDY
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 12.—(P)—Northwest African air force bombers, pursuing their attacks on the Germans in the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean for the seventh successive day, struck a smashing blow yesterday at the Nazi airfield on Corfu, strategic Greek island dominating the entrance to the Adriatic. Allied headquarters announced today.

On the rain-bogged Italian battlefield, only artillery and patrol actions were reported as Fifth Army troops along the swollen Volturno river front prepared for an assault on powerful German positions.

U. S. Mitchells sweeping from Italian bases and escorted by Lightnings struck at Corfu, bombing the Garista airfield, and the Lightnings scored two direct hits on a merchant vessel in Corfu harbor.

New raids on Calato airfields in Rhodes and Heralion airdrome in Crete also were announced. These missions were undertaken by American Liberators that poured bombs among parked aircraft and buildings near the airfields.

Bomb-carrying Lightnings made their first raid on the Antimachia landing ground on the island of Cos in the Dodecanese. This airfield has twice changed hands in fighting there.

Heavy rains still impeded the Allied troops along the Volturno and across the mountains to Termini on the Adriatic.

Artillery duels rumbled along both the Fifth and Eighth Army fronts, and Eighth Army patrols were aggressive, a dispatch from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters said.

No News On Casualties Held Back War Department States

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—“I regret to inform you . . .” These words begin the telegram which notifies a family that an American soldier is missing in action.

The scanty information in the telegram often is the only word available for weeks and months.

What the family frequently does not realize, said Col. George F. Herbert today, is that the wire also contains all the information available to the war department.

Herbert, as head of the casualty branch of the adjutant general's office, is the officer who receives the casualty reports from troop commanders, checks them with the assistance of a staff of officers and civilians—as thoroughly as he can against the possibility of error, and finally prepares the telegram which is sent by Adjutant General James A. Ulio.

“We know the uncertainty and the anguish experienced by the families of men who are missing in action,” said Col. Herbert. “We would like to give them more information. But the plain truth is that, nine times out of ten, the only source of additional information is the enemy, the government of the country with which we are at war, and there is simply (Turn to Page Two)

Weather Forecast Censorship Lifted

Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Lifting of censorship restrictions on weather forecasts demonstrated for the second time in a week today how confident the high command has grown in the safety of continental United States from enemy air attack of any magnitude. Byron Price, director of censorship, announced last night “improved defense and other war conditions” made it possible to relax the rules against publication and radio broadcast of weather forecasts. Effective last midnight, official forecasts are usable except for mention of wind direction and barometric pressure. Newspapers had been confined to publishing weather conditions within a 150-mile radius.

The volunteer civilian section of the nation's aircraft warning network was virtually eliminated last week, except as an emergency reserve. General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, said the enemy now is strategically capable of only small scale air attack and manpower needed dictated taking that calculated risk.

Bill To Delay Father Draft Being Revived

House Action is Answer To Agitation Against Induction of Dads

AMENDMENT EXPECTED

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—The Kilday bill was revived by the house military committee today as its answer to congressional agitation against the induction of pre-war fathers and the insistence of the army services that fathers must be called up if manpower quotas are to be met.

Passed by the house last April and shelved by the senate military committee, the bill provides for filling draft quotas on a state-wide instead of a local basis and sets up four categories in the order of which men shall be inducted, with pre-war fathers last. Chairman May (D-Ky.) and other house committee members said they would not be surprised if the Kilday bill were added by way of amendment, to legislation passed by the senate last week as a compromise for the Wheeler no-father draft bill.

The house group started hearings today on the senate measure. (Turn to Page Two)

War Hero's Widow Will Wed Physician

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—(P)—Mrs. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., attractive widow of the air force hero, and Dr. J. Watson Pedlow, Philadelphia chemical engineer and now a Navy Lieutenant (J.G.) will be married Friday.

Reports of the marriage plans were confirmed last night by her brother Ted Wick, who declined to give further information about the ceremony.

The wedding reportedly will take place in Pennsylvania. Capt. Kelly gave his life as a bomber pilot to sink the Japanese battleship Haruna shortly after the Pearl Harbor attack. Mrs. Kelly and her 3-year-old son, Corky, later came to southern California and had been living in Beverly Hills.

NAZI LINE IN WHITE RUSSIA IS MENACED

5,300 GERMAN DEAD

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Russian troops, firmly established on the left bank of the Sozh river opposite the strategic rail hub of Gomel, were threatening today to rip wide open a corridor to the west which would completely sever the German positions in White Russia from the hard-pressed Nazi armies in the Ukraine.

The Soviet juggernaut apparently was functioning smoothly on all sectors of the winding 1,200-mile front. A Soviet communique broadcast by the Moscow radio indicated the Russian war machine was fanning out from three main bridgeheads on the west bank of the Dnieper river in the Ukraine above and below the fortress-city of Kiev; was pounding its way nearer Vitebsk, northern anchor of the Nazi defense line in White Russia, and was menacing the German garrisons in the Crimea with imminent invasion from the north and the east.

The Germans lost more than 5,300 dead on yesterday's battlefields, the Russian war bulletin said. Fifty-eight enemy planes were shot down by Red army air men, while scores of tanks and guns were destroyed or captured, together with huge stockpiles of other war material.

(CBS in New York recorded a London broadcast which said that Soviet forces already had “penetrated the outer defenses of Kiev.”)

Moscow declared the Red army rescued 40,000 Russian civilians “whom the Germans were forcibly driving to slave labor in Germany.” Soviet spearheads were within 20 miles of Vitebsk last night, the bulletin added. Far to the south, Black Sea fleet warplanes struck “a blow at an enemy port,” possibly in the Crimea, and sank a 2,000-ton German transport and 11 barges and cutters, the communique said, adding that “many other ships standing in the port were seriously damaged.”

Man Charged With Death of His Step-son

Waynesboro, Oct. 12.—(P)—State police charged Richard E. Izer, 28, of near Waynesboro, with voluntary manslaughter after a Franklin county coroner's jury found yesterday he had inflicted fatal blows on his step-son, Charles Eugene Myers, 5.

The jury's verdict said “we believe that Charles Eugene Myers came to his death Oct. 6 in the Waynesboro hospital as the result of injuries to the brain caused by blows to his head administered by Richard Izer.”

District Attorney J. Glenn Benedict said Izer, a farmer and inspector at a Hagerstown, Md., aircraft plant, told officials of striking the boy with his open hand as punishment “for lying.” The boy died two days later.

Izer did not testify at the inquest on advice of counsel and was later returned to the county jail at Chambersburg. No bond has been fixed.

BLAIR COUNTY FARMER IS KILLED BY BULL

Williamsburg, Oct. 12.—(P)—Joseph Glenn Claar, 61, farmer living on the outskirts of this Blair county community, died yesterday a few hours after being severely gored by a large bull on his farm.

A neighbor saw the bull tossing something in the roadway and called Mrs. Claar, who drove away the animal with a big blacksnake whip. She later sold the bull to a meat dealer for slaughter. Neighbors said Claar had driven off the bull with a pitchfork earlier in the day after it ran over his daughter, Louise.

Destruction Of Yugoslavia Nazi Threat

Reich Says Patriots Must Lay Down Arms or Face Extinction

HOSTAGES TO BE SHOT

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Germany has threatened to destroy every city, town and village in Yugoslavia and to shoot an unspecified number of hostages in an effort to force patriots and guerrillas now waging war against the Reich to lay down arms, a communique of the Yugoslav Liberation Army, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav Radio, declared today.

The communique said that German planes were dropping leaflets over Yugoslav cities “in which they threaten the towns with complete destruction and the shooting of hostages.” It was issued after the capture of the important island of Cherso, commanding the entrance to the Gulf of Trieste, and added: “The German Luftwaffe is continuing its ruthless attacks on unprotected towns and villages.”

“The town of Novo-Meste has been completely destroyed. Not a living soul remains.”

The German threat of extermination came as the patriots claimed a series of victories which included the capture of Slankamen, a town on the Danube near the city of Novisad and approximately 50 miles northwest of Belgrade.

CLARION COUNTY MAN CRUSHED UNDER TRUCK

Clarion, Oct. 12.—(P)—Theodore Altmeir, 66, a barber of Monroe, was knocked down and crushed to death yesterday a few seconds after he answered a truck driver's questions about directions and walked around the machine.

Coroner H. M. Wellman, in issuing a certificate of accidental death, said the driver was delivering groceries to a store next door to Altmeir's shop in Monroe, and did not know the barber was behind his truck when he backed it.

Squire Is Almost Shooting Victim

Shippville, Oct. 12.—(P)—Justice of the Peace John Hach reported he almost became entangled personally into a case yesterday when he went to the home of Mrs. Margaret Beichner, a widow, to get her signature to information charging a roomer, Jacob Ora Brown, 63, with arson.

Hach had failed to get the signature at the time the information was made out earlier, charging Brown with setting fire to a mattress in the Beichner home.

The justice said when he arrived near the Beichner home, he found her and a neighbor in the road and Brown nearby with a shotgun. The weapon was discharged and the pumpkin balls shattered the windshield of Hach's car, crashing through the seat on his right. He left the machine quickly.

Hach said Brown returned and started another fire which razed the Beichner house. Sheriff W. O. Along captured Brown later in the woods and brought him to the county jail to be held for court after he pleaded guilty before Hach to arson and shooting with felonious intent.

AUSSIES ARE ADVANCING ON MADANG BASE

Shrinking of Nips' New Guinea Holdings Credited to Fine Work of U. S. Air Forces

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

BY BOB EUNSON
With Australians in the Ramu Valley, New Guinea, Oct. 10.—(Delayed)—(P)—The Australian Seventh Division has thrown the calendar away and is far ahead of schedule as it moves up the Ramu Valley within 45 miles of the Japanese base at Madang.

This shrinking of the Nips' New Guinea holdings since the fall of Salamaua Sept. 12 has occurred so rapidly—Lae was captured Sept. 16, Finschhafen Oct. 2—that no one knew from day to day where the Australians would strike next.

The swift conquest of the Markham valley, leading northwest from Lae, out of which the Aussies drove into the Ramu, was an example of coordination of Australian infantry, American troop carrier planes and American airborne engineers.

(This drive toward Madang started Sept. 18 with the seizure by airborne Australian forces of Kaiapit in the Markham valley, 60 miles from Lae. From there, the drive over the divide into Ramu has proceeded for approximately 30 miles.)

The swift strokes at Kaiapit and beyond it at Gusap and Dumpu were made possible by the troop carrier command and the engineers. Troop carrying Douglas transports took the bulk of the infantry on each advance, then brought up engineers to build or improve airstrips.

The big transports then used these strips for the landing of supplies. (Turn to Page Two)

Consumption Of Milk May Be Limited

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Confronted with a new and discouraging report on milk production, the War Food Administration (WFA) today speeded up plans to limit civilian consumption in all metropolitan areas.

The federal crop reporting board's October survey estimated last month's milk output dropped 3 per cent below the corresponding month a year ago, despite an increase in the number of milk cows.

Accordingly, the WFA went ahead with arrangements to extend delivery and sales quotas which are designed to hold consumption of fluid milk itself to the June level, and of milk products to about 75 per cent of the June mark. These quotas already have been put into effect in about 90 areas.

The crop board said milk production per cow on Oct. 1 in herds kept by 20,000 of its correspondents throughout the country was the lowest for that season since 1939. Labor and feed shortages were given as major reasons.

Double Success Recorded In Co. By Salvage Committee

A double success was recorded last week by the Warren County Salvage Committee, according to an announcement made this morning by W. T. Corbett, chairman of the committee.

In the collection of tin cans, the goal of one carload or 20 tons was reached. The cans were very well processed and all parts of the county contributed a full share. Excellent cooperation was received from the state highway department which furnished 8 trucks, the Valentine Disposal Company which furnished 7 trucks, the State Hospital and Moll Hide Company, each of which furnished one truck. The boys from the Y. M. C. A. processed a truck load of cans in very short order and did a fine job.

In the final roundup of silk hosiery, the county collected 683 pounds, which have been shipped to their destination. This is the last shipment as the hosiery collection has now officially ended. Since the hosiery collection began, the county has stripped approximately

Lisbon Accedes To Plea for Facilities To Assist the Allies

LISBON
Report Comes From Bern That Vessels of the United Nations Have Been Patrolling Waters Off the Islands Recently

EFFECT OF ACTION IS SUBJECT OF SPECULATION

By E. C. DANIEL

London, Oct. 12.—(P)—Tiny Portugal, Britain's oldest ally, has granted the British anti-submarine bases in the Azores islands—the crossroads of the Atlantic—Prime Minister Churchill announced today, but will remain neutral in the war.

Churchill, announcing this step vastly strengthening Allied ability to combat resurgent Nazi U-boat warfare, told the house of commons that President Roosevelt had been kept fully informed of the negotiations.

The Azores lie 1,000 miles west of Lisbon on the airways and sea lanes from Portugal to the United States.

Amid numerous rumors that the Portuguese, who now are engaged in the biggest military maneuvers of the war, might declare hostilities against Japan, Prime Minister Churchill disclosed in the house of commons that Antonio de Oliveira, Salazar's government had acceded to a British request for facilities to aid the Allies in their fight against the submarine menace.

While negotiations for opening the Azores ports to Allied warships have been kept completely secret, a report came from Bern early today that Allied vessels were patrolling off the Azores, and it was rumored that Portuguese bases would be made available for the duration.

Tiny Portugal is Britain's oldest ally. Churchill told commons that all British forces would be withdrawn from the Azores at the end of hostilities. The Portuguese themselves have constantly been reinforcing the Azores garrison to the extent of their limited facilities since the beginning of the war.

The Azores, nearly 2,500 miles east of New York, consist of nine islands the most important of which is Fayal. The chief city, Horta, is a transoceanic communications center and a stopping point for Panamerican Clippers. The islands, with a total population of about 255,000, are an integral part of the Portuguese republic and not a colony.

The immediate effect of Portugal's action was the subject of hot speculation in London. The first and most important result for the Allies will be to give them one more valuable base from which to combat the Nazi submarine warfare which abated this summer but which is expected to be resumed in full scale to beat off the coming Allied invasion of the continent.

The Azores will afford added protection for one of the most vital sea lanes from the United States to the future fighting on the continent. Lying at a crossroads of Atlantic shipping, 1,000 miles from Newfoundland and 1,400 miles from Britain, the Azores can be used to complete the air umbrella (Turn to Page Two)

WESTERN MOTORISTS GET LESS GASOLINE
Washington, Oct. 12.—(P)—Motorists of the far west starting today get three gallons of gasoline instead of four for their A, B and C ration coupons.

The Office of Price Administration (OPA), putting the curtailment into effect last midnight, said it was dictated by “tremendously increased demands for military needs.”

On the other hand, Knox reported he had observed, on an inspection of the Atlantic coast all the way from Recife, Brazil, north, a “competent defense organization,” and particularly praised Brazil's contribution to the fight against the submarine.

He referred to Brazilian airbases (Turn to Page Two)

Plan Trial Of Farmhand In Triple Murder

Mercer, Oct. 12.—(P)—The case of William Albert Morell, 20-year-old farmhand who has pleaded guilty to the murder of three persons on a farm near here, will come before the Mercer county December grand jury, District Attorney Edwin C. Moon said today.

Morell was arrested in Claridon township, O., last Friday, the day after the slayings of Mrs. Everett Wilson, 48, wife of his employer; her mother, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 78, and another farmhand, Robert McKay, 70.

The youth entered the guilty plea at his arraignment before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain yesterday and was held for the grand jury.

If indicted, Moon said, Morell will be arraigned in court for another formal plea. If he again pleads guilty he will be given a degree of guilt, Moon explained.

Moon said he was detaining for “further investigation” Janice Graham, 20, who was with Morell when he was captured.

GREEN STAMPS TO BE USED NOVEMBER FIRST

as becoming an increasingly important factor in that fight. Brazilian forces, he said, are being instructed by "the best men we have." In addition, he reported Brazil had a growing fleet of ships for use against the U-boat menace.

"The Brazilian picture," he said, "is one of marked and gratifying progress." Secretary Knox said that the British submarines which have immobilized the German battleship Tirpitz operated 1,000 miles from home with two man crews.

The submarines slipped through mine fields and mazes of submarine nets to launch their torpedoes against the mighty Nazi battleship in a Norwegian hideout.

Knox, in his first press conference since his return from a 25,000-mile tour of European battle fronts, said the attack on the Tirpitz was carried out while he was in England and was "characterized by a high spirit of daring and courage that is amazing."

He was 85. The internationally known writer, lecturer, educator, traveler and organizer died in a hospital after an emergency operation for an embolism.

Foremen Have Busy Session At Y. M. C. A.

In their initial session of the season, the Foremen's Club of Warren held a supper meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night, with fifty-two members in attendance, and Ray J. Ledebur, president, presiding.

Because of an unusual amount of business requiring the members' attention, no formal program had been prepared. Following a fine dinner, President Ledebur led in the discussion of the program for the coming months, getting the members' ideas regarding the kind of activities they would like to have. A service project was submitted as it had been recommended by the governors, and after considerable discussion it was decided to refer it back to the governors for action after these officials had made a survey of their members regarding the matter.

A contribution to the War Fund campaign was voted, the amount to be determined by the governors. For the November meeting, there will be a talk, illustrated by motion pictures. This program has been arranged for by William William Gaughin, with Bill Gaughin leading and Lloyd Van Tassel at the piano, the meeting was closed with a bit of group singing, after which some of the men accepted the Y's invitation to play games, such as billiards and ping-pong.

Treasurer Arnold Fletcher gave his report, calling attention to the dues which remains unpaid. Before the close of the evening most of those were paid.

CIGARS REALLY SCARCE

The two-fers have almost disappeared from the cigar counters of the city and the vendors of cigars are having trouble keeping their stocks up and most of them are unable to do so. The matter of purchasing a box of cigars is almost as difficult as getting a quantity of beer or a fifth of liquor. It begins to look as though the old law of supply and demand will do some reforming where the reformers couldn't make a dent.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

At a meeting of the County Council of Defense held Friday afternoon in the office of the council it was voted to give from the Salvage Committee the sum of $700 to the War Fund. This money was derived from the sale of tin cans, etc., in the salvage drives. The Salvage Committee reported this money available for charity use and it was felt that the War Fund Drive was a worthy object. A recent shipment of tin cans filled one large car and it is estimated that 20,000 pounds of cans were shipped. Following the meeting the members of the Council were photographed in front of the court house. Prior to taking the photograph County Chairman Gibson presented ribbon awards for 2000 hours work to T. Corbett, D. G. Kropf, Forest Waite, Victor VerMilyea and W. W. Wright.

ly no way to bring pressure to bear on an enemy government." His summary of the situation was prompted by published accounts of a meeting of Kansas City parents whose sons are missing in action. The group of 40 decided to send to their congressmen, the army, the navy, the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., names of 127 Kansas City boys in uniform, hoping for some additional word.

The War Department has discontinued giving the exact geographical location where a man disappears. This is to protect those who escape capture.

Those captured or killed in enemy territory without the knowledge of their fellow Americans can only be listed as "missing" until some definite report on their status is received from the enemy, said Herbert.

In the case of Germany—and formerly of Italy—these reports usually are forwarded through the International Red Cross in most cases within a few weeks, but occasionally taking as long as four months. The Japanese, on the other hand, make little effort to supply such information. A year and a half since the fall of the Philippines, the army still has not received reports on all the men on Bataan and Corregidor.

At least 1,000,000 more women will be needed in munitions industries before January, 1944, the WMC says.

BILL IS BACK...

Bill quit his oil job six weeks ago. Went into one of the big war plants outside the oil region. 'Gettin' more dough,' he said.

Today Bill is back on his oil job again.

"Sure, I made more money," he said, "but what did it get me? Cost me the difference to live and the livin' wasn't half as good as it is here. Wasn't sure how long the job would last, either. I said to myself, 'Hey, fella, nothing's more important to winning the war than Pennsylvania Oil, an' there's no better place to work than the place you came from.'"

Bill's back . . . and glad he is.

Oil workers in the Pennsylvania region, whether they're producing or refining, are a vital part in Uncle Sam's huge war effort. No war material is more important than 100% Pure Pennsylvania Oil. Don't let anybody tell you different.

The World and Warren County

This is one of a series of articles describing the work of the various welfare agencies of Warren County. It is written in connection with the Warren County United War Fund campaign for $88,700. $49,000 of this total (the largest quota in any drive in a quarter of a century) remains in Warren County.

GIRL SCOUTS

Among the very worth-while agencies to which you will be giving your support when you make your contributions to the Warren County United War Fund is one which is now serving 492 girls throughout Warren county—the Girl Scouts.

The Warren County Girl Scouts Council is the only county-wide agency devoted to service to girls, and nearly every community has an active group of Girl Scouts. The county council is now engaged in a campaign to extend the services to include every possible girl in Warren county, and is making rapid strides in this direction.

At the present time, the Council is serving 492 girls and has 175 adult members, council members and troop committee members, which brings the total membership figure to 667. Except for one executive secretary and one part-time office secretary, adult service is entirely voluntary.

It is gratifying to know a few of the worth-while activities in which our county Girl Scouts have participated through the Girl Scout Service Bureau, and the many agencies which they have served.

For the American Red Cross, Girl Scouts have made surgical dressings and many sewed and knitted articles. They stamped over 10,000 envelopes mailed by the Crippled Children's Committee and Tuberculosis Society. Finished garments were donated to the Needlework Guild. The Girl Scouts served luncheon for Tag Day workers during the Infantile Paralysis Foundation campaign. They collected waste paper and fats for the Salvage drives and manufactured decorated boxes for hosiery collections. In a Range Aide Program, Girl Scout campers cleared grass and weeds from more than a thousand trees in a new plantation. For the Office of Civilian Defense, they are doing clerical work, acting as assistants to Block Leaders, and, in one community, acting as air raid messengers.

Among their public-spirited deeds were the picking of apples at the Girl Scout camp and donating them to the Warren Relief Association and the Warren General Hospital and the folding of paper bags for the Hospital and Visiting Nursing Association. In addition, they made "fag bags" for the National Forestry Department in a fire prevention campaign.

These are but a few of the many fine services rendered our community and county by the Girl Scouts and do not include the hundreds of other acts which were participated in by single troops or individual Scouts.

The training received by the girls is fully as valuable in building a great nation as is that given the young men and boys, for in their troop meetings they, too, are taught the cardinal principals of Americanism and service to country and to their fellow citizens.

The Girl Scout program is typical of the agencies which we most need if we are to have a friendlier understanding between our own people, as well as between nations, when the war is over.

Your prompt and generous contribution to the Warren County United War Fund will do much to bolster our town and county where it is most needed in the days to come—in its Youth.

HOW DO YOU KEEP YOUR CHILDREN SO WELL?

Have you ever noticed how children in some families keep so well? While in others, it's always something. If it isn't the sniffles, it's ear ache. Or croup. Or any one of a hundred different ailments. Think of the expense of sick children. Doctor bills. Medicine. Your time. And the way you worry yourself sick.

Did you ever stop to think of the connection between health and the food you eat? That the children whose parents carefully feed them those things which will build the body, repair tissues, strengthen walls of the blood vessels, prevent infection, and so on really aren't sick much? Did you know that many of the children in Warren schools who are found to be undernourished come from homes where there is money to buy the right kind of foods?

The Warren Medical Auxiliary has planned a program for their annual Public Health Day for Monday evening, October 18, at the High School auditorium at 8:30. Two short movies will give pictures of the best in nutrition: "Hidden Hunger" and "Foods and Nutrition". Miss Arlene M. Schnure, home economics advisor for Warren county schools will talk on "Foods for Your Family" with a question-and-answer period following.

This is a splendid thing for the wives of Warren county doctors to sponsor. They have gone to a great deal of trouble to make this meeting of immense value to mothers and fathers in working toward healthier families. Let's all go. There is no admission charge.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Fire hazards in the forests of this section today are great. Lack of rain the past few weeks has made the woods dry as tinder.

A carelessly thrown match, cigar, cigarette or the dumping from a pipe, can start a woods blaze that might be difficult to control.

The Forestry Department asks that persons visiting the woods not to make outdoor fires before December 7. This applies to those going into the woods as well as those living along forest lanes and highways.

The big thing now to keep in mind is to prevent forest fires.

Motorists are asked not to throw lighted cigarettes out car windows. These can be fanned into fire within a few moments and whole sections of wooded areas turned into flames.

Persons don't willingly do such things, but in a careless moment a still lighted cigarette can cause considerable damage.

Be sure your cigarette, cigar or pipe is completely out before tossing same out of machine.

Only by cooperation can a scourge of forest fires be prevented in this section now.

Those who tramp through the woods are requested to use extreme caution so as not to set fires.

The Forestry Department will appreciate your cooperation.

SHOE RATION CUT

Announcement of the reduction in shoe allowance, through lengthening of the ration period from four months to a tentative six, has drawn a chorus of boos from almost everybody, with parents of young children loudest in their condemnation.

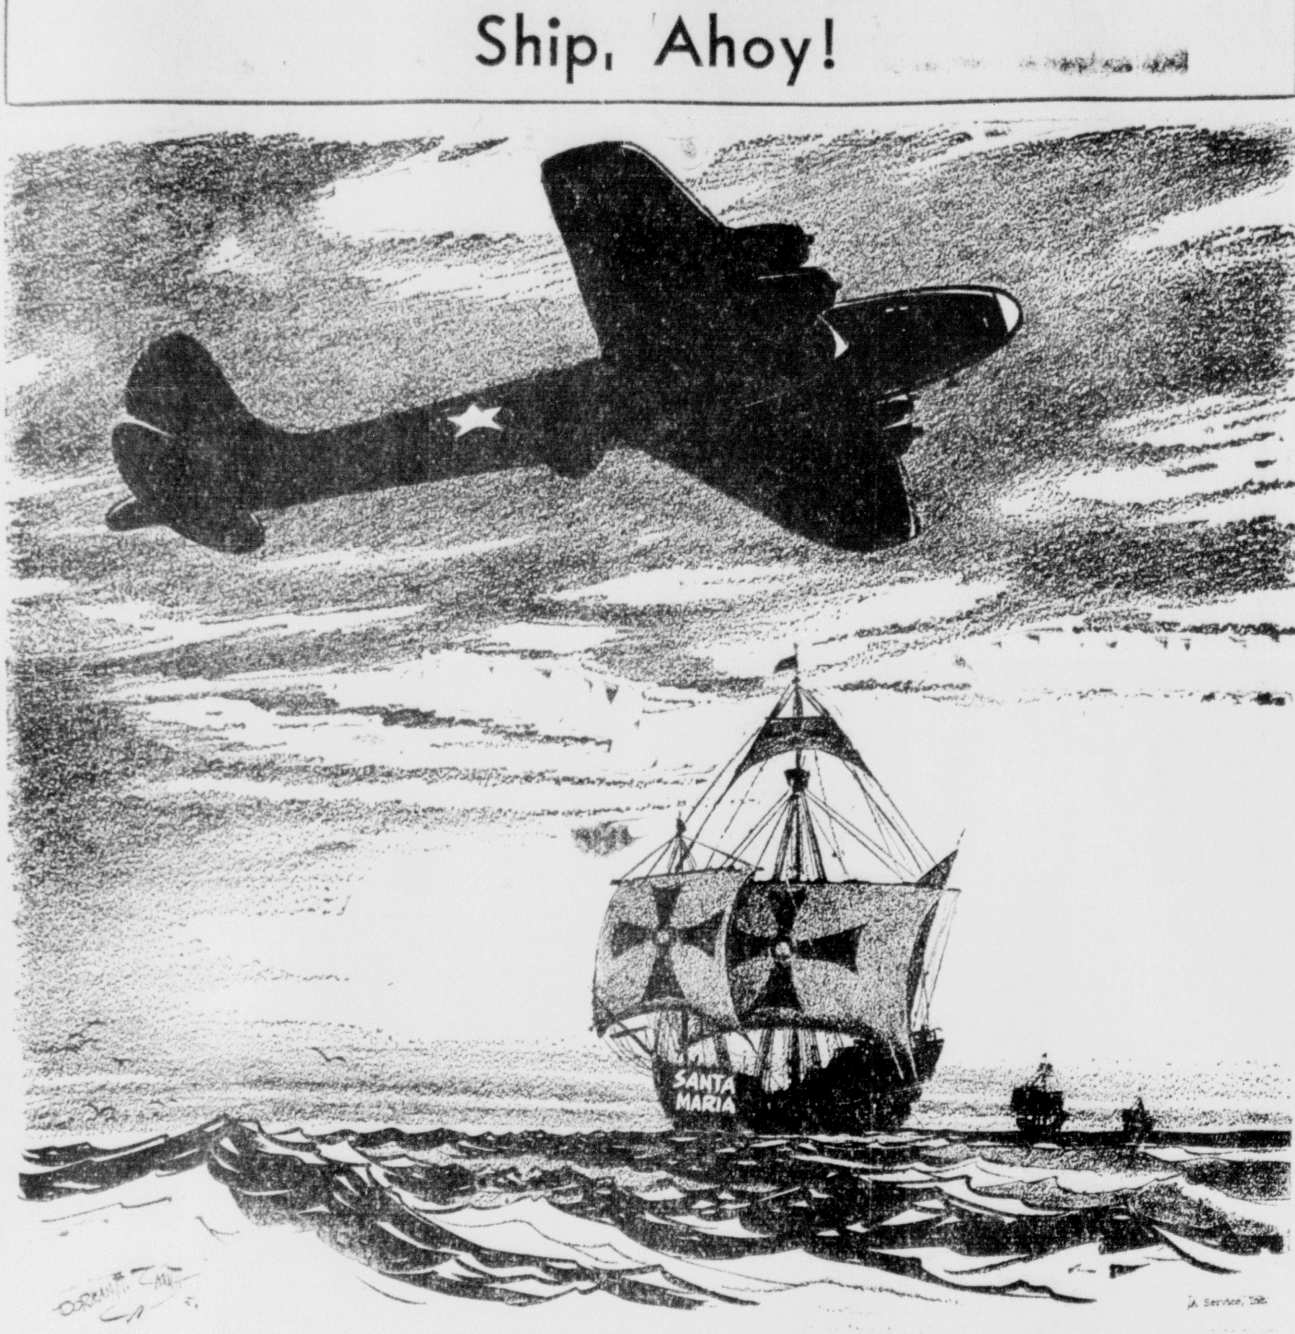

No young child can get by for a year with two pairs of shoes. Parents will share by going without. But two parents can hardly keep even one 8-year-old in shoes with six coupons without going barefoot themselves—and what about those who have three, four, five or more youngsters to shoe?

Fortunately OPA doesn't expect that. It has promised that, once the family's coupons are used, extras can be obtained for young children provided they are for utility wear and not for party use and show-off.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—This is a footnote on a series we wrote some weeks ago about the post-war employment and care of veterans of this war, but it deals with a situation that now exists—the employment of disabled veterans of World War II.

It already has become apparent that insofar as the government can force it, disabled veterans are going to be 1-A on the nation's job list.

The Civil Service Commission is the nation's biggest employer. It isn't the only agency concerned about reemployment of disabled veterans. As a matter of fact, it is only concerned with the government employment of such veterans. As such, it already is laying down the blue print for private enterprise because the employment and rehabilitation divisions of Selective Service, Veterans Administration, Federal Security Agency, and War Relocation Authority have declared their determination to do everything they can to see that private enterprise gives disabled veterans as good a break as does civil service.

Back of this are the plans for a vast educational and training program for disabled veterans. But all of it is a tendency to fit the physically handicapped person for a niche in the economic or governmental structure to which he is best suited.

One point that Ramspeck and the commission base down on is that none of this is charity. There isn't a deplorable disabled veteran who hasn't his place in gainful employment. The problem is to find it.

degree of physical handicap with which they can be performed.

"We have found out what abilities and faculties are needed in particular jobs," says Ramspeck. "Then we have taken persons with these abilities and faculties, even though they may have other handicaps and persuaded appointing officers to use their services. Since October of last year, over 15,000 physically handicapped persons (not all veterans) by any means, but many of them are) have been placed in federal positions as a result of this program.

"Our next step is to make a study of the manner in which these physically handicapped persons have carried on their work. This study will be completed within the next few months."

THE findings of the commission undoubtedly will supply any employer with statistical data on what physically handicapped persons he might give jobs to.

In addition to that, the Ramspeck committee now is prepared to call any placement officer on the carpet and demand specific reasons why he has failed to employ disabled veterans whose abilities are suited to the job to be filled.

North East high school will play here Saturday and the team is expected to give the locals a hard tussle.

HOLLYWOOD—William Eythe is the only actor I know who got his ears slapped down, literally, as a prelude to crashing the movies.

And he had already had them slapped down plenty, in the usual way, back in the days when he lived in Greenwich Village with a group of young intellectuals whose talk exalted the theater and its art and—"anybody who even mentioned the movies," he recalls, "got stared at. He was beyond the pale."

Bill is 25 now, a blithe chap vaguely reminiscent of the Tyrope Power of several years ago, and so youthful-looking at 25 that he practically has to show his birth certificate if he walks into a cocktail bar. He is earmarked for stardom in "The Eve of St. Mark," movie version of the Maxwell Anderson play. His only previous films were "The Ox-Bow Incident" and "The Song of Bernadette."

THE "Eve" set, the first day of shooting, represented an information center at New York's Radio City where Bill once was a page boy.

After he finished at Carnegie Tech, specializing in stage design but having acted in college plays, and had gone to New York to crash the theater. "I did some stock," he said, "and then I had to eat and I got this job. I used to take along a soup lad with me, hoping I'd find somebody to talk into producing it on the air, but I never got close. One day a friend of mine who worked in television came out and yanked me in, and told me to start reading. The announcer had just quit and they needed one right away. I read from a news paper and they gave me the job."

HIS break came in Oscar Serlin's production of "The Moon Is Down." In the play his Lieutenant Tonder is supposed to lapse into hysteria, and a German officer cuffs him on each cheek to snap him out of it. When the play tried out in Baltimore, the other actor misjudged his slap and the blow punctured Bill's left ear-drum. On opening night in New York the same thing happened and Bill's right ear-drum was shattered. He was deaf for two weeks. He had to be cuffed again in "Ox-Bow Incident" and the ears again sent him to the doctor.

Eythe's favorite sport is bowling.

"I was bowling one night all by myself, and I wasn't doing too well," he said. "So when a strange man came up and said to me, just as I was getting ready to throw. 'Aren't you William Eythe?' I said, 'Yeah, what of it?' He just smiled, and it was a good thing he had a sense of humor. His name, I learned, was William Perlberg, and he's the producer of 'The Eve of St. Mark.'"

What It Means

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The father draft question is now pretty much of a dead bunny. General Marshall testified at hearings on the Wheeler bill (to delay drafting of fathers) that there already are 700,000 fathers in the Army. With the Army now at a strength of about 7,000,000 men, it takes no wizard to see that fathers make up 10 per cent of it—a figure surprisingly high to most of us and one which seems to indicate that it's too late to do much about keeping fathers at home.

What is important is not the immediate effect that drafting of fathers will have on family economic units, but the long-range effect on those units of exposing the heads of families to the perils of war.

Losses Estimated
The war will last only a few years at the longest. Some families may suffer inconvenience, even hardship, for that period, but will be back to normal. But how many families will lose their breadwinners forever? And of those heads of families who do return, how many will find their earning power reduced because of battle injuries or the effects of disease?

These questions cannot be answered with certainty, of course, but it may be possible to reach some fairly accurate conclusions along this line.
To date, some 9,522,000 men have entered the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps during this war. Of these, about 2,000 have been killed or fatally wounded, approximately one-fourth of 1 per cent. By the end of this year military and naval chiefs want some 10,450,000 men in service. If battle deaths continue at the same rate, about 10,75,000 will have to have been in service all together to make up for losses. It is not expected that the armed strength will increase greatly above that figure—not enough, at any rate, to upset these calculations seriously.

Now then, of those 10,475,000 men, how many will have been fathers and how many of those fathers will have been killed?
10 Per Cent Fathers
To obtain the number of fathers, let's start with the 700,000 (11 per cent) that General Marshall says are now in the Army. Let's assume that the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines also have 10 per cent fathers. That would mean that by the end of the year 1,050,000 fathers will have entered the services.

Assuming that fathers are spread evenly throughout the services, in and out of combat areas, one fourth of 1 per cent of them will have been killed. 2,500. This is at the rate of 100 a month since Pearl Harbor. If casualties continue at the same rate, 3,700 fathers will be killed if the war lasts another year and nearly 5,000 if it lasts two more years.

These deaths will not include fatal attacks of disease. During World War I, disease claimed 57,000 soldiers' lives — 7,000 more than were killed in battle. Military doctors say that disease is far less of a menace this time, but no official figures have been released. Disease losses are disregarded in these computations, therefore, but some deaths from that cause must certainly be counted on.

Disabilities
Now as to disabilities. It is too early to come to any conclusions in this war on how many men will be totally or partially unable to make a living after they are mustered out, but the World War I record is somewhat revealing. Then, there were 4,800,000 men in the armed service. Of these, 635,000, or 13 per cent, have drawn disability compensation at some time and about 340,000, or 7.5 per cent, are drawing compensation now. To get compensation, a man must be disabled at least 10 per cent from injuries or illness suffered during the war or from illness presumed under law to have arisen from the rigors of his military service.

Compensation claims arising from illness probably will be considerably fewer this time than last time, but assume for the moment that the percentages will run the same. In that case, 136,500 (13 per cent) of the fathers serving in this war will receive compensation at some time within 25 years after peace, and 73,500 (7.5 per cent) of them will be receiving compensation at the end of that time. As a sheer guess, however, say that medical advances will cut these figures in half.

To sum up:
1. If the war continues another two years, 5,000 families will have lost their husbands and fathers through death on the battle field or at sea. Add to this an uncertain number whose breadwinners will have died of disease.
2. Some 70,000 families will lose 10 per cent or more of the earning power of the family head for some period of time.
3. Twenty-five years after peace is declared, about 35,000 families will still be out at least 10 per cent of his earning power.

(The U. S. Census Bureau reported there were 34,861,625 families in the country in 1940.)

WATER GOING TO LAKE ERIE FROM RIVER

North East, Oct. 12—Bull reservoir, serving water to industry and homes in North East, is one of the largest engineering achievements in northwestern Pennsylvania in recent years.

Bull reservoir may be considered the first step in the French Creek-Allegheny river flood control program, located as it is on a tributary of French creek, which is the outlet to Findley lake.

Its contribution to flood control lies in the fact that water which courses to the Allegheny is diverted northward by a tunnel a mile in length through the divide to serve North East and to continue into Lake Erie. The reservoir is a third larger than Findley Lake.

YOUNGSVILLE CHURCH PLAN SPECIAL MEETINGS

Youngsville, Oct. 12 — The Youngsville U. B. church is planning on a series of special gospel meetings beginning Sunday, Oct. 17 and continuing for two weeks. Rev. Leroy Casler of Cuba, N. Y., will be the speaker. He is a young man of unusual ability as a preacher, pastor and evangelist. He holds the record of the second longest pastorate in Erie Conference and has been invited by a large number of fellow pastors to assist them in special meetings. These efforts have been eminently successful. The pastor and the local choir and musicians will lead the music for the series. Visiting musicians from neighboring churches will be invited to sing or play as they choose.

All local people as well as friends from near and far are invited.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Home economics and agricultural teachers of Warren and Forest counties held their regular meeting in the Youngsville High School building, when plans for the year's activities in this area were presented by the instructors.

H. C. Fetterolf, state advisor of agriculture education, was a guest and spoke to the teachers on "Food Production War Training". Ray Heim, vocational director of education in Delaware, was a second speaker, taking for his topic "the educational activities being promoted in his state."

SALVAGE REMINDERS

OLD BOXES MAKE PARACHUTE FLARES

Parachute flares, shell fuse parts, Victory containers, and other essential military equipment are being made from use bags, boxes, newspapers, and all forms of waste paper, especially brown papers and containers. Your waste paper accumulations are going to war, in the form of equipment and supplies for our fighting forces. Flatten out used containers, stack newspapers and waste basket paper into neat bundles. Save and sell your salvage, or give to charitable or other organizations, by calling collectors at 3045.

With an "unavoidable stumbling block" of 29 rejections, Cambridge Springs blood bank missed its goal by a bare three points, taking 157 instead of 160, on Saturday. The fine yield of this fourth Cambridge Springs blood bank was added by 20 donors from the Carnation Milk plant and more than a dozen volunteers in addition to many regulars.

Attu Filling Station

A row of gasoline drums is a filling station at Massacre Bay on Attu. A creek is a road. The army tractor "gassing up" is part of the mechanized might that has driven the Japs from the Aleutians and made these islands potential bases for bombers to Tokyo.

The picture is one explanation of gasoline rationing. If civilian uses had been put ahead of combat needs, that would be a Jap tractor—symbolizing a threat of air thrusts at U. S. cities.

It is hard to get along with less gasoline than you have been used to—but a far greater sacrifice is made by the fighting men who are buying freedom for you with their lives.

The least we can do is back them up with our every resource. For the oil industry, that has meant sending petroleum products to the action fronts in more than 80 times the volume of the first world war.

American oil production is superior to Axis production both in quality and quantity. Why? Largely because of the continuous improvements in oil refining under our competitive business system.

This system of American enterprise is one of the things that our enemies are seeking to destroy. It is one of the reasons why the petroleum industry is able to support our fighting men with a flood of fighting oil. Record petroleum production is an American answer to Axis dictatorships which deny every liberty on which democracy is built.

If ever a club fit itself, this year's Cardinals fit the picture. Mostly, they missed Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter in the outfield. After the second game, last Wednesday, which Mort Cooper won with a magnificent competitive performance, they folded up like a straw hat that's been sat on. As running specialists they were practically stationary. They appeared to be only going through the motions of the fourth game on Sunday. And in yesterday's con-
